

Priorities May Cause Pinch In Steel Industry

Plant Expansion For Defense Outlined

By STERLING F. GREEN
WASHINGTON—(P)—The National Production Authority (NPA) looked today for a way to prevent military orders from disrupting the flow of steel to auto and other civilian goods producers.

It hoped that a steel industry "task force" might come up with the formula.

Both NPA and the industry fear that a flood of defense orders bearing the compulsory "DO" priority rating may be dumped on a few key steel companies which might thus be washed out of the civilian market.

Would Shift Orders

The "task force" of steel executives has undertaken to draft a proposal under which no individual company would be required to accept priority orders beyond a certain percentage of its total production. The group is expected to recommend shortly a figure in the neighborhood of 20 per cent.

Any priorities orders beyond that point would be steered to other companies found to be able to handle them without crippling output for civilian goods.

Along this same line, Secretary of Labor Maurice J. Tobin recommended yesterday immediate plant expansion for defense production instead of general shifting from civilian to military output.

Can't Be Avoided

Tobin said in a speech at Columbus, Ohio, that plant expansion and increase of manpower to handle the expanded production would allow for more rapid conversion "to total mobilization than if we had to expand plant and capacity after the crisis was upon us."

But even such a system, Tobin added, will not prevent some curbing of civilian production.

The steel industry task force has agreed to operate for the duration of the defense emergency in channeling military orders into the mills best able to handle them and to see that the munitions burden is distributed equitably over the industry.

Rail Workers Make Demands

By HAROLD W. WARD

WASHINGTON — (P) — Exploratory talks between the railroads and firemen's and engineers' unions were looked upon today as the first ripple of a new wave of wage demands for 1-250,000 rail workers.

The Brotherhood of Firemen and Engineers, headed by David B. Robertson, and the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, led by J. B. Shields, were set to start talks with railroad negotiators on their delayed demand.

Firemen and engineers want a 40 hour work week for 48 hours' pay. Engineers reportedly are seeking a 20 per cent pay boost.

Those demands were held up while the trainmen and the conductors wrangled this summer with the nation's railroads. The lines were seized Aug. 27 to avert a strike of the 300,000 trainmen and conductors—whose dispute still is unresolved. They turned down one offer for a 23-cent hourly pay increase for yard service employees and a nickel an hour for those on the rolling trains plus cost of living increases for the next three years.

The switchmen and yardmen accepted the railroads' offer because most of their members would get the 23 cent increase.

Nova Scotia Coast Escapes Hurricane

HALIFAX — (P)—A tropical hurricane whipped past Nova Scotia early today after changing its course. It had been expected that the storm, with winds up to 90 miles an hour, would rake the Nova Scotia coast.

However, winds of 70 miles an hour in gusts were forecast for southern Newfoundland as the blow swept northeastward.

Korea's Future Mapped By UN

By STANLEY JOHNSON

LAKE SUCCESS — (P) — The United Nations moved full steam ahead today to put into effect an American-backed plan for the future of war-torn Korea.

The plan, which grants tacit permission for U. N. forces to cross the 38th parallel, won 47 to 5 approval in the 60-nation political committee last night. There were seven abstentions. Only the Soviet bloc—which supported a rival resolution—voted against the proposal.

Supporters of the proposal shrugged off fears that the Chinese Communists may intervene in the Korean war because U. N. military occupation of North Korea will be necessary to enforce its decisions.

Secretary of State Dean Acheson told a news conference that any group looking to the world for recognition and for admission to the U. N. would hesitate to challenge U. N. principles. Communist China is fighting for the U. N. seat now held by Nationalist China.

The peace plan—sponsored by Britain, Australia, Brazil, Cuba,

The Netherlands, Norway, Pakistan and The Philippines—has four main aims. They are:

1. Action—including holding of elections under auspices of the U. N.—for establishing a unified, independent and democratic Korea.

2. U. N. forces should not remain in any part of Korea longer than necessary to achieve this united government. This was taken to mean that those forces could pursue North Korean aggressors anywhere in the country north or south of the 38th parallel.

3. Economic rehabilitation of Korea. Supporting delegations hope Korea will be a "pilot project" to show what the U. N. can do in this line.

4. A new U. N. commission of seven members to see that the plan's provisions are carried out.

Six members of this watch-dog committee already have been named. The seventh place has been left open in the hope that India will accept it.

The GOP team will leave Monday for the Upper Peninsula for a week's barnstorming. The schedule calls for appearances at Iron Mountain and Escanaba on Wednesday.

Friend Of Margaret Weds Missouri Girl

YPSILANTI, Mich. — (P)—Frank G. Handy, a friend of Margaret Truman, is going to wed a Missouri girl.

She is Miss Betty Jean Goshorn of Jefferson City, Mo. Handy said, however, he did not meet her through his friendship with the President's daughter. They first became acquainted at a newspaper convention in Chicago.

Handy is the son of a Ypsilanti publisher. His fiancée's father is a publisher in Jefferson City where the wedding will take place Oct. 11.

Closed Season Trout Fishing Plan Rejected

MARENISCO, Mich. — (P)—For the second consecutive year, the conservation commission yesterday refused to permit commercial fishermen to fish for lake trout in the present closed season.

Represented by Claude Ver Duin of Grand Haven, secretary of their state association, the commercial fishermen sought again to get approval for their plan to fish during the spawning season and turn the spawn over to the conservation department hatcheries.

The eggs would be hatched and when the young fish were large enough, they would be planted back in the Great Lakes.

Lamprey Loss Cited
The fishermen contend that the program would offset the inroads of the parasitic sea lampreys which have severely reduced the population of the important game and food fish.

Fred A. Westerman, the commission's fish division chief, backed by U. S. Fish and Wildlife studies, has strongly opposed the proposal. He holds that the fishing during the spawning season would do more harm than good. Much immature spawn would be harvested which would not be useful and hatcheries can never reach the success percentage of natural reproduction, he said.

The commissioners said they did not know enough about the problem to dispute the judgment of the men they pay to study such things.

Going over regulations for the 1951 fishing season, the commission reduced the probable take of sturgeon through the ice in the January and February season by setting a season limit of two. The 1951 limit was two a day.

Ski Lifts Approved
Approved was installation of new ski lifts at the Porcupine Mountains State Park next summer and the expenditure of $7,000 to improve the slopes. A decision on a long-standing proposal to extend a road in the park to the top of the escarpment was deferred again until the December meeting.

The commission approved asking the legislature for $12,942,831 to run the department in 1951-52, $6,861,480 of it from hunting and fishing license money and $6,081,351 from the state general fund.

Chicago Crime Big Shots Hide

By EARL AYKROID

CHICAGO — (P)—Chicago figures on both sides of the law today were summoned before U. S. Senate crime investigators.

The list of witnesses called to secret sessions of the committee ranged from Chicago's mayor, a state's attorney elected as "the man gangsters fear," to remnants of the old "Scarface Al" Capone gang.

Prime meat for the committee's sessions in Chicago are the gang-style slaying of a former Chicago police lieutenant and a lawyer, both of whom were investigating crime. They were slain Sept. 25 in separate ambushes.

Most of gangland's big shots in the Chicago area have gone into hiding to evade committee subpoenas. At least three are known to have gone to Mexico to await the committee's departure from Chicago.

George Robinson, the committee's associate counsel who has been gathering information in Chicago for several weeks, said that police in Mexico, Cuba, Canada and other countries have been asked to search for fugitive gangster witnesses.

Robinson disclosed that committee agents seeking to serve subpoenas on gambling overlords in Gary and Indiana Harbor, Ind., Tuesday found the gambling spots padlocked. The gamblers had departed for parts unknown.

Draft Rejects 48.5 Percent

WASHINGTON — (P) — The army turned down 100,413 of the 207,038 men examined for the draft in August.

This 48.5 percent rejection rate for the second month of selective service calls was reported today by the surgeon general's office. It compared with 52.2 percent in July, when only 12,281 were given pre-induction tests.

In August 20.1 percent of the draftees failed to pass the physical examination. The July rejection rate for this cause was 26.8 percent. The number failing to pass the intelligence test increased from 15.2 percent in July to 17.6 percent in August. All other rejection categories dropped or remained substantially the same.

Floating Mine Sinks U. S. Mine Sweeper; 21 Crewmen Missing

WASHINGTON — (P) — The Navy announced today the mine sweeper Manie has been sunk by a floating mine near North Korea. Twenty-one men are missing.

It was the third ship to hit a mine in Korean waters. Two destroyers—the Brush and the Mansfield—were damaged by earlier collisions with mines and 11 men on the Brush were lost.

The Manie hit a mine Sunday near the city of Ch'Usan-Dong. Twelve survivors were picked up by a sister ship, the minesweeper Morgan, and carried to Pusan, Korea.

Allies Ready To Yank Down Iron Curtain

TOKYO, Friday — (P) — Beating down the strongest resistance yet encountered in North Korea, the Korean Republic's Third division Thursday seized Changjin, 60 air miles north of the 38th parallel.

U. S. Eighth Army headquarters estimated that a Red infantry division and a company of Red marines made a stand three miles south of that east-coast town.

All-Day Battle

AP Correspondent William Jordan, with the fast-moving Republican Third division, said the town fell to the South Koreans after an all-day fight. His information evidently was several hours more recent than that at Eighth Army headquarters.

Thirty-five miles south of this deepest penetration of North Korea, the Republican capital division engaged a bypassed force of about 1,200 Reds in the hills west of Hwangju.

The first notable show of Red defense came as a United Nations army of up to 175,000 troops was massing to yank down the iron curtain all along parallel 38 and wipe out Communist resistance in all of Korea.

The non-Korean Allies kept south of the artificial border stood ready to cross and join South Koreans who have already pierced the curtain and probed 60 miles or more into the Communist-ruled northland.

Austria Raided By Communists

VIENNA — (P) — Communist demonstrators halted all rail traffic into and out of Vienna for three hours today. Tracks on the east-west line from the American occupation zone into Vienna were the first ones cleared of road blocks and traffic resumed.

A flying squad of several hundred Communists piled railway ties across the tracks of that line at St. Pölten, in the Russian zone, west of Vienna. Other lines were blocked the same way and the Communists stood guard over the barricades at many points.

Crowds of shouting Communists, apparently angry over the failure of their general strike call yesterday, initiated blockade of both rail and road traffic at St. Pölten in the Russian zone. This halted western rail traffic running into Vienna's west station.

Police, despite Russian orders not to interfere tried unsuccessfully to stop the demonstrators.

In August 20.1 percent of the draftees failed to pass the physical examination. The July rejection rate for this cause was 26.8 percent. The number failing to pass the intelligence test increased from 15.2 percent in July to 17.6 percent in August. All other rejection categories dropped or remained substantially the same.

TOKYO — (P)—The Red retreat trail back to North Korea is strewn with buried and unburied bodies of an officially estimated 25,000 murdered men, women and children in South Korea.

Where they could, the Reds covered the evidence of horrible brutalities with eastern trenchments. In haste of retreat, they left many bodies in exposed mounds at some places.

Some of the victims were American soldiers taken prisoner by the Communist army but the total is not known.

American officers said the overall 25,000 figure is only a minimum estimate. The tragic total may run much higher.

South Koreans said most of the victims were bludgeoned, speared, burned or hacked with hatchets for opposing communism.

Mass graves, large and small, are being turned up in every city,

Fords Wildcat Strike Broken

DETROIT — (P) — A back to work movement continued today at the Ford Motor Co.'s rolling mills.

The first break came at midnight in the wildcat strike that had threatened a complete shutdown of all Ford's plants. Strikers began reporting for work at three rolling mills of the firm's big Rouge steel plant.

If the back-to-work movement continues today, the company said it would cancel plans for a series of layoffs that would eventually have affected 125,000 workers.

The rolling mill workers walked out Monday in protest against a ruling which bore on premium pay. Dr. Harry Shulman, impartial umpire under Ford's contract with the UAW, ruled they were not entitled to premium pay for Saturday and Sunday except when it is over and above a normal 40-hour work week.

Father-In-Law Freed In Pontiac Killing; Claims Self-Defense

PONTIAC, Mich. — (P) — Municipal Judge Maurice E. Finnegan decided that Edward Mitchell, 46, acted in self defense when he shot his son-in-law to death.

The judge dismissed yesterday a second degree murder charge against Mitchell in the Sept. 5 shooting of Kenneth Johnson, 22, son of Betty Johnson, 19, testified for her father. Mitchell said he believed Johnson to be armed when the latter forced his way into Mitchell's house. Mrs. Johnson had taken refuge with her father after quarreling with her husband.

Stassen Offers To Talk Peace With Joe Stalin

Diplomatic Experts See Little Chance

By OLIVER W. DE WOLF

WASHINGTON — (P) — Republican Harold E. Stassen's bid for a sort of citizens' peace conference with Communist Russia's Premier Josef Stalin today was greeted with mixed reaction at home and abroad from Moscow.

Stassen, an unsuccessful seeker after the 1948 GOP presidential nomination, disclosed the move yesterday. He made public a letter suggesting further correspondence or a face-to-face meeting—publicly reported—with Stalin in an effort "to stop the drift toward war."

No Political Move

The state department promptly announced that Stassen's proposal had "no official inspiration." But it said if Stalin agrees to meet with the University of Pennsylvania president, Stassen undoubtedly will get a passport to Moscow.

Stassen, questioned closely by newsmen about the political implications of his action, said it was "non-political," but was "definitely a move from an individual in the Republican party."

Diplomatic experts saw little chance that Stalin would accept. But the state department reportedly welcomed the letter for its propaganda effect. The "Voice of America" featured it on foreign language broadcasts.

Stassen's letter did not explicitly ask for a meeting with Stalin. But the former Minnesota governor told a news conference that was its "primary objective."

Branded War Criminal

There were signs that Stalin might be less cordial toward the idea of talking with Stassen than when the two first met in Moscow in 1947.

For one thing, Stassen's letter strongly denounced Russian aggression and her "refusal to co-operate in stopping" the Korean war.

Then, too, the Moscow Literary Gazette had already proposed Stassen for eventual trial as a war criminal. Just a month ago that Communist organ, which often reflects official Soviet policy, blasted at Stassen for suggesting that the U. S. warn Russia that further aggression would "mean that war will come to Moscow." The Literary Gazette said Stassen was advocating atomic war.

What Stassen's proposal envisages is a conference between Stalin and leading politburo members on one hand and himself and four or five other prominent American citizens on the other. Stassen declined to say whom he had in mind for such a mission.

At Yangpyong, near Seoul, some of the 700 also were burned to death. The charred bodies of some small children were found among the ashes of their parents.

An accurate count may show that as many women and children as adult men were killed, official sources said.

The Reds executed whole families of known anti-Communists.

The chief victims of the Communists were city and village officials, policemen, and ordinary civilians who were either denounced as anti-Communists or refused to conform to Communist methods during the three months when the Reds held most of South Korea.

There is some testimony from a few cities indicating that the North Koreans tried to indoctrinate non-Communists. When they failed they killed. Nobody was spared.

The 280 put to death at Suchon were burned apparently in a giant incinerator.

U.S. Marine Band Will Give Two Concerts Here On Friday

Varied Program Will Be Played

Oliver Auditorium
At 3:30 and 8:45

New arrangements of popular music, music of the masters and John Philip Sousa's immortal marches will be played here Friday when the U. S. Marine Band presents its first Escanaba concert.

The appearance of the "president's own" symphonic band, at 3:30 p. m., and 8:45 p. m., tomorrow, is sponsored by the Escanaba school system.

Advance ticket sales have been good and indications point to full houses for the concerts. Tickets will be available at the door Friday and now are on sale at the junior and senior high schools, at Gust Asplund's and the Chamber of Commerce office.

Varied Program

The U. S. Marine band, directed by Major William F. Santelmann, symbolizes the best in music but also renders popular airs that delight young Americans and grown-ups alike. Though a military organization, its music is by no means limited to the marches for which it is famous.

Major Santelmann, distinguished conductor of the band, presents many of the symphonic masterpieces, adapting them to the distinctive elements of the group so well that often it is difficult to realize that the strings of the orchestra are absent.

Ability to interpret these compositions broadens the educational opportunities for the band, for it can bring to its audiences such essentially symphonic works as Weber's "Oberon" overture, Dvorak's "New World" symphony, the tone-poem "Finlandia," Tschalkowsky's "March Slav" and numerous Wagnerian excerpts.

However, light, melodic and rhythmic music, and standard concert numbers also are included in the marine band's programs. For instance, at all the concerts of this great musical organization, the Marines play their own arrangement of "Star Spangled Banner" and the stirring "Stars and Stripes Forever" by Sousa, who led the band for many years. Several carefully selected marches from the world's outstanding compositions also are included.

Fine Trombone Soloist

The compositions of two American composers, the new "Prairie Legend" by Elsie Siegmeyer, and "Annie Laurie" by Arthur Pryor, also are included in the Marine band concerts. "Annie Laurie" will feature a trombone soloist, Robert Iselle.

Another number which will be included on the band's program will be "Irish Rhapsody" by the Spanish composer, Pinto, with Claude Pedicord as harp soloist for the presentation. It contains a setting of "The Harp that once through Tara's Halls" and "Believe Me if All Those Endearing Young Charms."

Among European works which will be played on the evening program are Smetana's "Vltava," "Dreams of Love" by Franz Liszt, the overture to "Tannhauser" by Wagner, Mendelssohn's overture to "Ruy Blas" and the Polonaise from "Christmas Night" by Rimsky-Korsakov.

About two-thirds (64%) of all timber cutting on private lands in the United States is poor or destructive in character; only 8 percent is up to really good forestry standards.

Escanaba has been designated the headquarters for two battalions in the Upper Peninsula and one battalion in Lower Michigan comprising the 34th regiment.

Report Poor Grouse Kill

Expect Conditions Will Improve

Ruffed grouse kill, poor; sharp-tails, fair to good, was the summary report of the conservation department on bird hunting success in the Escanaba district so far in the 1950 small game hunting season that opened last Sunday.

Hunters found grouse reluctant to show themselves and taking full advantage of the leaf covering in woods and thickets. Sharp-tails, inclined to frequent the plains areas, were better game for the early-season hunters.

Conditions are expected to improve by the coming weekend. Colder weather and high winds are stripping the Autumn leaves from the trees, removing the concealing cover that has hidden the ruffed grouse population, rated at or near its peak in the Upper Peninsula this year.

One Escanaba hunter, Irving King of 212 1/2 North 11th street, combined big game hunting with his trip after grouse on the opening day and bagged a 200-pound bear back of the Flat Rock area. The kill was made with a .22 caliber rifle.

Big City Has Fear Of Bombs

H. L. Lindquist Talks To Stamp Club

Harry L. Lindquist, former Escanaba and Iron Mountain resident and now a prominent New York publisher and chairman of the National Federation of Stamp Clubs, told of the growing appeal of stamp collecting as a hobby when he spoke at the meeting of the Lindquist Stamp club of Iron Mountain early this week.

As proof that stamp collecting is America's popular hobby Lindquist told of the United States exposition held in 1947 that was attended by 200,000 persons. Various regional and national society meetings devoted to the hobby attract more thousands of persons.

After the stamp club meeting Lindquist revealed that he was in the Upper Peninsula at this time largely for the purpose of depositing certain securities and other valuables in an Iron Mountain bank. "Many business men in New York are removing their valuable papers and personal possessions to other and less strategic areas," he said. "There is a very definite trend towards preparation and precaution in New York, and all along the east coast."

"This is reflected, also, in preparations being made by many industries and large business houses in New York. Bomb-shelters are being built everywhere, beneath existing buildings. Employees are being rigidly trained in first-aid and other practices, to minimize casualties in event of attack."

"Other areas in the nation may not be taking this threat seriously—but you can rely on it, New York is 'alerted' to the hit, and the people were never more serious about anything."

Lindquist is leaving soon for Cairo, Egypt, to help stage an international stamp collectors' show. He has invitations from other

Gries To Speak At Blaney Park

Consumers Power Man Also Booked

Because former Senator Prentiss M. Brown will be unable to remain for the final banquet, Walter F. Gries, of Negaunee has replaced him as the "climax speaker" for the 40th annual meeting of the Upper Peninsula Development Bureau in Blaney Park this week.

Although he did not reach the political heights achieved by Brown, Gries probably is even better known in Upper Michigan and throughout the state. A one-time school teacher, he is now manager of the Cleveland Iron Company's welfare department and is a member and past chairman of the state social welfare department.

Gries is well-known as a speaker and his appearance at the Blaney gathering will find favor with many of the Bureau's officers and members.

Gries will speak Saturday night on "Building a Sound Economy for our Area," following an address by H. L. Brewer, director of industrial development for the Consumers Powers Co., Jackson, who will talk on "Utility Participation in Industrial Development."

Brown, now chairman of the board of directors for Detroit-Edison Co., Detroit, will be heard at the Friday night dinner. Also speaking at that time will be D. Leo Dolan, director of the Canadian Government Travel Bureau.

The Development Bureau gathering will open at 2:30 Friday afternoon with registration in the Blaney Park Lodge. Besides two evening dinners, the program includes the annual business meeting Saturday morning, a noon luncheon and an afternoon symposium on "A Plan to Hasten Industrial Development in the Upper Peninsula of Michigan."

He addressed a meeting of the Bark River, Danforth and Flat Rock units of the National Farmers Union at Riverview hall last evening. He left this afternoon for Menominee, but will return to Escanaba next Wednesday when when Gov. G. Mennen Williams appears here.

Walleyes That Are Not Spawned Are Fish That Can't Be Caught

DR. RALPH HILE of the U. S. Fish and Wildlife Service is an expert on fish habits and it is logical that his viewpoint on the walleye situation in Bay de Noc waters should command respectful attention.

Nevertheless, even experts frequently disagree on what is good and what is bad for fish propagation. And the laymen often find themselves in disagreement with the experts.

Dr. Hile and other fish experts said here Monday night that the heavy catches of walleyes by commercial fishermen have no adverse effect upon the normal fish population nor does the heavy commercial fishing interfere with sports fishing.

The fish experts may be correct in their viewpoint, but it is hardly realistic to contend that a later season opening is unnecessary because walleyes have been increasing in local waters.

The 1950 season was an unusual one. Cold weather delayed the normal spawning season and on opening day of the season last May commercial fishermen pulled in many, many tons of walleyes, a large percentage of which had not yet spawned. The laymen simply cannot believe that the billions of walleye eggs that were not spawned makes no difference to the walleye population of future years. Walleyes that are not spawned are walleyes that cannot hatch. And, of course, walleyes that are not hatched are fish that will never be caught, either by a commercial fisherman or a sports fisherman.

It does make a difference whether walleyes are spawned or not and the layman will never accept a contrary viewpoint, no matter what the experts say.

Ford Foundation Will Aid Humanity

ONE of the five aims of the Ford Foundation, endowed with $238,000,000 in non-voting stock of the Ford Motor company, is the support of activities designed to advance the economic well-being of people and to improve economic institutions for the better realization of democratic goals.

Just how much, if any, of the Foundation's work will be developed on a regional basis is still undetermined. Basically, the objective of the Ford Foundation will be to make a substantial contribution to global efforts for the removal of the causes of war and to build a world foundation for permanent peace.

The Foundation has established an extremely broad basis for its activities, designed essentially to promote human welfare.

In the event the Ford Foundation decides to conduct any of its research programs on a regional basis, it may well select the Upper Peninsula for an economic study. The Foundation could aid the peninsula considerably by helping to point the way to greater economic stability.

In any event, the Ford Foundation with the tremendous resources at its disposal can in the years ahead accomplish much in promoting human welfare and in helping to erase the causes of war.

A TAP ON THE SHOULDER

There is something about October that stirs a man. There's a briskness to the air at dawn and a cool, invigorating edge to the high-noon breeze that presses in from the west or west by north. The tenth month strides confidently over the countryside wearing bright sports clothes as Nature finishes the season's work and drains the foliage of chlorophyll. The reds and purples, bronze and scarlet, wine and gold of the anthocyanins color the leaves; hills and valleys, upland slopes and mountain shoulders resemble a magnificent Oriental rug.

October lights bright fires over the countryside. A single, tall specimen of beech, maple or oak standing on a hillside or in a meadow resembles a gold, red or bronze torch, beautiful against the deep blue of tenth month sky and shaggy, white cloud masses. Staghorn sumac's candles are wine-red flames; the musky fragrance of wild fox grapes fills the air and heaps of red apples are piled in the orchard. Brown corn shocks line the fields and piles of orange and gold pumpkins are bright against the gray-weathered south sides of old barns.

Birds gather in flocks and swirl in formation over frost-bleached fields and meadows. Blue jays scream defiance at the shortening days and the first chickadees come exploring around the farmstead. Cold increases at night and farmers look for a Black Frost any time now. Cold works a mysterious alchemy in our flowering world; those who dread the months ahead forget that Spring's magic could never be a reality without the resting period of ice and snow. This is the glory climax of Year when flaming beauty crests the height and spreads over the woodlands. If a man take a single colored leaf in hand and study its hues, he can sense a part of the mystery of Nature. As days work forward and Time begins to slide downhill, one can be certain. Year's officers are tapping a season on the shoulder and telling it to move along; for when Autumn flies her flags it means Nature is readying for the last chapter.—By Haydn Pearson.

Baseball Can Be Proud Of Al Rosen

SELFISHNESS is an abundant human trait so when an example of unselfishness is displayed, it is an occasion for special comment.

Such an example of unselfishness developed in Miami, Florida, this week when the sports minded citizens of that community decided to promote a "welcome home" celebration for Al Rosen, hard-hitting infielder of the Cleveland Indians.

The Miamians started to raise a fund on Rosen's behalf as a part of the "welcome home" party. The money was to be used to purchase a new automobile for the ball player.

When Rosen heard about it, he promptly balked. He said that he was "amazed and deeply appreciative" but thought that the money being raised could be put to better use.

"If you feel you must do something for me, then continue to raise the money and give it to the Variety Children's hospital," Rosen suggested. "They can use it and having a part in such a project would give me more satisfaction than any gift you can buy."

Rosen's unselfish response to the "welcome home" celebration in his behalf is a particularly fitting gesture that should further endear him to his friends and make every sports fan proud that baseball has men of Rosen's character.

Big league baseball players are well paid, particularly ball players of Rosen's ability. They do not need fund-raising drives in their behalf. As Rosen himself pointed out, the money can better be used for more worthwhile causes.

Russia Still Holds Prisoners Of War

THOUSANDS of German soldiers taken as prisoners of war by the Russian army during World War II and at its conclusion are still missing and are believed to be in Russia, probably in forced labor camps.

On July 14 the American government sent a note to Russia which said that Russia's failure to repatriate German prisoners of war has caused considerable suffering and anxiety among German families. Similar notes also were sent by the British and the French governments.

This week Russia rejected the American demand for an accounting of German prisoners of war and contended that the Soviets do not hold large numbers of such prisoners.

The situation regarding the German prisoners of war is similar to the situation regarding Japanese prisoners of war. Both countries have large numbers of missing men who were known to be in Russian prisoner camps. Now the Russians disclaim any knowledge of their whereabouts.

It is regarded as all but certain that these men are being held in Siberian labor camps, slaves of the Russian government. They are probably working alongside of the thousands of Russian citizens who have also been seized and delivered into slavery because they may have uttered a word in protest to the bestiality of communism.

Regard for human rights is not one of the virtues of Red rule.

Old Sport

By Gordon Martin

Comes the magic of the autumn when the breeze has got a bite, and the leaves are floatin' down to earth and makin' quite a sight, then the bonfire smoke's a-curlin' in the glory of the fall, and you've got a friend who's pinin' when he hears a Bob White call. He's a-frettin' and a-stawin' 'cause he wants his day in court, and you got to take the field again to satisfy Old Sport.

Yep, Old Sport he gets the jitters when the countryside he views and no matter where you let him run, he's got a nose for news. He goes rushin' through the thickets with his short-haired pointer's coat and sometimes you think he's got a hide that's tougher than a goat. When he stops so quick you'd think he'd throw his bones all out of joint, then you wonder what's more thrillin' than a bird dog on a point.

Now that's sure a sight to see Old Sport a-searchin' for the quail—finds 'em high upon a hilltop or in cover of a swale. Just won't move a dog-gone muscle till a bird is on the wing, and retrievin' one, he brings it in as proud as any king. Sure the Indian summer season is a time that's mighty short, and they never make it long enough to satisfy Old Sport.

Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON—It is now possible to get a reasonably accurate picture of what the Kremlin had in mind when it invaded Korea and the impact our victory has had on Kremlin thinking. This picture comes from intelligence information pieced together from various parts of the world and, while its accuracy is not copper-riveted, it is probably reasonably correct.

At the time of the Korean invasion, the Kremlin was convinced that the United States would not resist. This conviction came partly from the Soviet embassy in Washington and was unwittingly confirmed by the top U. S. adviser to South Korea, Col. John E. Baird, through his Korean mistress, Kim Soo Im. Through the unsuspecting Baird, the Korean Mata Hari learned of various secret directives, all showing we had written off Korea and did not plan to return in case of North Korean attack.

Subsequent events indicate that Colonel Baird may have done his country a great favor.

For, banking on American inertia and the difficulty of mobilizing the United Nations, the Kremlin had prepared a series of "revolts" in other areas to follow the Korean attack—Formosa, Tibet, French Indo-China, civil war in North India, an invasion of Yugoslavia and Greece, an Azerbaijan attack on Iran, and a drive to push the Allies out of West Germany.

If these could be accomplished, the Kremlin planners were convinced that anti-Communist governments in France and Italy would fall and the history of Czechoslovakia would be repeated.

UPSET TIMETABLE

What upset the Kremlin timetable was the sudden decision of President Truman to order U. S. troops into Korea plus Secretary Acheson's well-planned maneuver to get U. N. Security Council approval for our counterattack. From two reliable sources, we know that the Kremlin was dumbfounded.

The 14 men in the Politburo had never expected anything like this, and the Soviet embassy in Washington was ordered to report immediately as to what went wrong.

This upset threw other Soviet moves off schedule. Communist troops, it will be recalled, were all set to invade both Formosa and Yugoslavia, but the attacks were delayed for reconsideration of strategy.

WHAT NEXT FOR KREMLIN?

What will happen next is hard to predict. However, two factors seem worth examining. Because the Kremlin's intelligence was so bad regarding Korea, they appear to be worried about trusting intelligence reports from other countries.

Also, it appears certain that the current peace front which Malik and Vishinsky are waging at Lake Success is aimed to lull us back to appeasement.

The last thing the Russians want is an alert, heavily armed U. S. A. Hence the friendlier speeches, the rumors of a Stalin-Truman meeting and the talk that Vishinsky will attend an American football game.

Meanwhile there will be riots and exploratory probes in Germany, probable uprisings in Azerbaijan, plus Communist successes in Indo-China.

If we appease, the Kremlin will go back to its old bulldozing. If we continue tough, there should be a bona fide change in Kremlin policy—though this would be a miracle.

HOW TO WIN THE PEACE

President Truman got some stimulating ideas on how to "win the peace" the other day from Harold Russell, armless commander of Amvets and star of the movie, "Best Years of Our Lives."

"Instead of waging a 'preventive war' against Russia, as some people advocate, our policy should be one of 'preventive strength,'" suggested Russell. "That does not mean we have to hold still waiting for any further acts of Soviet aggression. But it does mean that the door for peace must be left open at the U. N. conference table. I'm not one of those who believe that war with Russia is inevitable."

The Amvets chief hotly assailed Congress for failing to pass an excess-profits tax and for appropriating more money for "pork barrel" projects than for atomic research.

WORDS TO WATCH

Q. We should like your diagnosis of the word horizon. Is it ever proper to accent the first syllable?—H. R.

A. The first syllable was accented in Shakespeare's time; and Noah Webster (1828) listed HOR-i-zon as first choice. But such a pronunciation has long been obsolete. Today's correct pronunciation is: huh-RY-z'n.

Q. Do I remember correctly that Winston Churchill pronounced the word partisan as "pah-r-ti-zan" with the third syllable accented?—M. E. B.

A. Yes; pah-r-ti-ZAN is the customary British pronunciation. The Standard American pronunciation: PAHR-ti-z'n.

Q. An engaged man is spoken of a fiance. I find that most people say "fee-ahn-SAY." That's wrong, isn't it?—Mrs. P. A. Fiance is masculine; fiancée is feminine. Both are pronounced the same, the English being: fee-ahn-SAY.

In French, from which language we borrowed the words, fiancé is spelled with an acute accent mark over the final "e" (the acute accent is a little tick that slants to the left. Fiancee the feminine form, has the accent mark over the first "e").

Not long ago, during one of radio's dramatic productions, the female star, a movie actress, referred to her "FEE-ahns" several times. The surprising thing about it is that the mistake was not noted and corrected during the long hours of rehearsal. Well, it could happen only in Hollywood.

The Way It Looks From Where We Sit

Airlift Begins All Over U. S. Winds Up At Kimpo In Korea

AIRLIFT STARTS from Thousands of airports all over the U. S., then joins Tokyo-bound planes on West Coast. Above, soldiers prepare to board some of the many planes flying the Pacific for the MATS airlift. AIRLIFT'S END is now in Kimpo field just outside Seoul in Korea. At right, Air Force, Army and Marines join hands to unload a "Flying Boxcar" after the field was recaptured.

By DOUGLAS LARSEN

NEA Staff Correspondent
WASHINGTON—(NEA)—Proving the tremendous value of an airlift into a combat zone may turn out to be one of the major military developments of the Korean fighting.

None of the rule books on warfare ever told a commander he could count on such a big fraction of his supplies and men being flown into a battle area.

The 30,000 men and 4000 tons of supplies which are estimated will have been flown into Korea during three months of fighting is a figure which astonishes the planners and logistics experts. Nothing like it was ever done in World War II, in comparison to the size of the Korean effort.

The airlift is one of the big reasons UN forces, in three short months, were able to move into a country and bring to its knees a force of 250,000 troops, well equipped and trained for five years.

A total of more than 300 military cargo planes and the part-time use of practically every civilian transport aircraft in the U. S. has made this job possible and a great success. Actually, it breaks down into three parts.

Gen. William H. Tunner, the famed commander of the Berlin airlift, is running the last leg of the operation and probably the most ticklish and important part of it—moving of supplies and men from Japan into Korea.

In a few days after the capture of Kimpo airfield near Seoul, Gen. Tunner and his staff will be working with hundreds of tons of critical supplies and critical personnel daily. And planes returning to Japan were loaded with wounded. The same had been going on in the Pusan area, on a bigger scale, ever since the fighting started.

Second part of the Korean airlift is the operation of the Military Air Transport Service. It flies the cargo from special points of embarkation in the U. S. to Japan. Maj. Gen. Laurence S. Kutler is MATS commander.

In this operation he has about 250 airplanes including 175 which are regularly in his command, two groups of troop-carrier planes, 65 planes and crews which he is renting from U. S. airlines, 10 Canadian planes and two planes donated by the Sabena Belgian airline.

Military planes fly from Fairfield-Suisan to Hawaii, to Johnston to Kwajalein, to Guam and then to Japan, a total of 8033 miles.

Civilian planes fly the mid-Pacific route from Fairfield-Suisan to Hawaii, to Wake, to Tokyo, a total of 6718 miles. Flying time is 34 hours. Or they fly the Great Circle route from Tacoma and then to Anchorage, Alaska, and on along the Aleutian chain to Shemya to Tokyo, a distance of 5633 miles with flying time about 20 hours.

The Korean airlift really starts from thousands of airports near factories and military supply depots all over the U. S. Most of this part of it is being done by more than 1300 civilian commercial cargo planes.

The Air Transport Association, which represents most of these commercial carriers, is acting as liaison with the military. And many of the important certificated ELUSIVE WALLEYES—"It is difficult to study fish," said Dr. Ralph Hile of the U. S. Fish & Wildlife Service following a meeting Monday night at the Escanaba court house.

But that is what Hile and others of the Fish & Wildlife Service are doing in connection with the walleyes and other species in Green bay waters. What their findings are we know in part, what value there is knowing what they have learned is questionable.

Questionable at least from our viewpoint, since we consider the walleye just another fish, good to eat, but of no more virtue than a steak or a plate of fried oysters.

The purpose to which the Fish & Wildlife Service will put its knowledge of the walleye is equally unimportant to us as an individual, since Dr. Hile frankly reports that he does not know what makes the walleye increase or decrease in numbers.

COUNTING THE RINGS—Robert Balch of the Wisconsin Conservation Department, working cooperatively with the Fish & Wildlife Service, and Don Maraz, both stationed at Sturgeon Bay, are counting growth rings on the scales taken from walleyed pike.

Walleyes taken from Green bay in the majority are about seven years old, indicating they were hatched out in 1943. An old walleye is one about 12 or 14 years old.

Balch and Maraz are examining scales taken from fish brought in by commercial fishermen to Fayette, Fairport, Garden and Escanaba. Last year Dr. Hile counted growth rings on walleye scales obtained in this area by Stanley J. Lievense of the Michigan department of conservation, who has since been transferred to Lower Michigan from Escanaba.

STILL UNKNOWN—Despite growth-ring counts on walleye scales and production records reported by commercial fishermen, experts like Dr. Hile frankly write "unknown" to the one most important question: What is the cause of the walleye population increase in Green bay?

Dr. Hile speculates at some length on the question without answering it. One thing he is certain about, however, and that is that the abundance is "abnormal."

Just why abundance of walleyes should be considered "abnormal" in Green bay is not otherwise defined by Hile except that records show comparative scarcity to be "normal." These records, incidentally, are of the pounds of fish produced by commercial fishermen.

Dr. Hile and other federal and state fisheries experts do not, publicly at least, consider fish production records in relationship to basic economic factors.

FOREVER BOOMING—These factors include: 1—Relationship of fish prices and demand to meat prices and market scarcity; 2—The money to be made from fishing during periods of higher fish prices and the tendency to expand fishing operations.

The experts dispose of the economics with the assertion that the fish must first be there before they can be taken; therefore if there is an abundance of fish there will be an abundance of fishermen; and if the fish decline in numbers through "natural" causes there will be fewer fishermen.

If the above sounds a trifle complicated, let me quote Dr. Hile:

"There is heavy fishing for walleyes when there is a heavy population. When the population declines so will the fishing. It is a matter of economics."

FAR FROM SIMPLE—The so-called "problem" of the Green bay walleye resulted in the meeting and the meeting brought forth at least a couple tips to the benefit of the sports fisherman.

The man with a hook and line, permitted to take 10 walleyes per day, will have his best luck in evening fishing or when the day is overcast. On bright days, fish in deeper water.

The walleyes are well fed and happy and may be difficult to lure into snapping at artificial baits. The walleyes are not scarce—for commercial fish production figures will show that 1950 will be a record year with more than 1,000,000 pounds taken in Green bay waters.

For $15 you can obtain a license to use a net in Michigan Great Lakes waters and take all the walleyes you want to.

Highway US-41 Caravan Coming

To Arrive In U. P. Tuesday, Oct. 10

Upper Peninsula cities will be hosts next week to between 40 and 50 members of the US-41 Highway association who are travelling from Florida to Michigan to publicize that highway.

Leaving Miami on Oct. 6, the motorcade will travel north on US-41, arriving in Upper Michigan Oct. 10. Following stops in Menominee, Escanaba and Gladstone, the highway enthusiasts from southern states will come to Marquette at 7 o'clock that night. The Marquette Chamber of Commerce will be host to the group during their stay in this city.

The following morning, joined by several Upper Michigan groups, the motorcade will proceed to the Copper Country, making short stops at Negaunee, Ishpeming, Baraga, Houghton, Hancock and Calumet. Copper County residents are arranging a noon-day luncheon and reception at 1 o'clock that afternoon at Fort Wilkins—northern terminus of US-41.

The motorcade will leave Copper Harbor at 4 the afternoon of Oct. 11, going to L'Anse where the Baraga County Tourist Association and the Baraga Lions club will be hosts at a dinner in the Whirligig. The out-of-Michigan guests will be housed through the hospitality of Baraga and L'Anse residents that night and the motorcade will be disbanded the following morning.

Upper Peninsula residents generally, and Baraga county in particular, feel that this effort to gain publicity for and call attention to Highway US-41 is timely for the Baraga region because the last long unpaved strip of this Florida-Michigan highway is being hard-surfaced south of L'Anse.

Living Blood Bank Measure Signed By Michigan Governor

LANSING — (AP)—Legislation starting a "living blood bank" in Michigan was signed by Governor Williams Tuesday, although he called it "inadequate."

Williams said the measure provides a start on the program and "is evidently the most the legislature will approve."

The lawmakers last month cut Williams' proposed $1,500,000 program to $500,000 on the grounds that amount would show whether the program was feasible by the time they return in January.

The program visions the typing of the blood of 3,000,000 persons for use in case of an atomic bombing.

Williams said the end of the Korean war should not lull the public into dropping defense preparations.

"We should utilize the time which our fighting men have bought with their lives," he said, "in order to complete our preparedness program."

Delta Cattle Test Started

Examine Herds For Bang's Disease

Testing of cattle in Delta county herds for Bang's disease is under way today, directed by the Michigan department of agriculture, with examination of test samples being made in the department's laboratory in Escanaba.

Bang's disease, or contagious abortion in cattle, is a highly communicable disease that can be controlled only through a continuing program of examinations of the animals to weed out those that are infected. The technical name for Bang's disease is Brucellosis.

In humans, Bang's disease is diagnosed as undulant fever and is marked by debility and recurring low fevers.

Dr. R. P. O'Shaughnessy of the Michigan department of agriculture, Dr. L. J. Heiden and Dr. Joseph Ruwisch, local veterinarians are employed in the Delta county testing, supervised by Dr. E. J. Wuellner, in charge of the department's laboratory here.

The last tests for Bang's disease in Delta county were completed in April, 1948, after several months work.

At that time 11,185 head of cattle were tested and only 56 head in 22 herds were found to be infected with the disease. This is considered a good record and a low incidence of the disease.

The testers go from farm to farm in the county in their work and the laboratory examinations are made in Escanaba. The tests for Bang's disease are repeated at least every three years in every county in Michigan, a continuing program that keeps the disease under control and prevents the possibility of epidemics among the cattle herds in the state.

on their pre-war fortified line just north of 38. From those positions—then called a defense line—tank-led Red columns invaded the Republic June 25.

The old line runs from Hwachan, in the eastern mountains interior, to Haeju, on the west coast. Its eastern anchor has been overrun by the South Korean forces advancing miles to the north along the sea of Japan coast virtually unopposed.

(The U. S. Navy announced in Washington that the minesweeper Maggie was sunk Sunday by a floating mine off the east coast, near North Korea, and that 21 men are missing. It was the third U. S. vessel to hit a mine in Korean waters.)

Jump-off Imminent
General MacArthur's headquarters made it clear that all his forces are ready to go into North Korea as needed.

Non-Korean troops had been held south of 38 since the South Koreans stabbed across Sunday.

The question of their crossing from liberated South Korea was considered only as a military issue, General MacArthur's headquarters said, and not as a political hurdle at this stage.

The United Nations at Lake Success Wednesday night directed MacArthur, in effect, to use any means at his command to unify Korea.

To mop up the remnants of the retreating Reds, U. N. forces waited only for completion of the buildup eastward from the Seoul-Inchon west coast area and for final decisions on strategy. There was no indication of where the main Allied blow would fall.

Surrender Bid Ignored
The Red regime continued to ignore surrender ultimatums first aired by MacArthur last Sunday and repeated since.

American Marines punched northward from rubble Uijongbu, 20 miles south of 38 and about 11 miles northeast of Seoul. Resistance was scattered.

On the east coast, the South Korean Third division was 60 miles north of the Red border. It was within 25 miles of Tongchon, where the Reds might attempt a stand in defense of Wonsan, an industrial center, some 25 miles farther north.

At least 20,000 Korean Republican troops were already in Red territory. Other South Korean divisions totaling perhaps 30,000 men were either across the boundary or arrived along it.

Guerrillas Vicious
There had been speculations—official and other—as to whose orders sent the Republican forces across the boundary Sunday. But if this had been a hot potato, it evidently had cooled enough for handling by American military sources. They said:

"General MacArthur had as much authority over the South Korean forces as he does over an American division."

Moving forward with Allied ground forces, seven squadrons of jet and other fighter planes were on new bases. From these points closer to 38, the air force said, any target in North Korea is within easy flying range.

Behind the Allied forces gathering south of Red territory, trapped and widely scattered Red remnants were turning increasingly toward vicious Guerrilla activities.

General MacArthur's spokesmen noted the increase of Red raider action and said it might create a serious harassment of rear areas.

Jury Decides For Plaintiff

Awards Zoellner $264 Damages

Deciding for Francis Zoellner, plaintiff in a property damage suit, a circuit court jury this afternoon reported to Judge Glenn W. Jackson it found the amount for the plaintiff to be $264.75.

Zoellner claimed damages to his automobile in the amount of $300 in his suit against Conrad Pratt, a minor son of Lawrence Pratt, both of Escanaba.

Cars operated by Zoellner and Conrad Pratt collided last summer at the intersection of 14th avenue north and 18th street.

The jury hearing the case was composed of Evelyn Ayotte, Gladstone; Andrew Satterstrom, Baldwin township; Lottie Frechette, Bark River township; Arthur Lorenson, Bay de Noc township; Percy L. Cameron, Brampton township; Archie J. Sanville, Cornell township; Alice Constantino, Escanaba township; Lorraine L'Heureux, Escanaba; Elizabeth Norby, Gladstone; Fritz Bjurman, Bay de Noc township; and Emil Klein, Ford River township.

All of the venire named for duty at the October term of circuit court were excused by the court until 9 a. m. Wednesday, Oct. 11, when they will return for duty.

Only non-jury cases will be heard the remainder of this week and on Monday and Tuesday next week, when the county board of supervisors will be in session.

Student At MSC Goes To Classes Barefoot

FAST LANSING, Mich.—(AP)—Lyle Thompson, a Michigan State College student, showed up at classes yesterday barefooted.

"It all started at the football game last Saturday," explained Thompson, a dignified senior.

"I listened to the other fellows brag about the argyle socks their girls knitted them."

Then he kidded his girl about her not showing him the same affectionate treatment. She offered to knit the socks if he would go barefoot for a day.

So he did.

Furnace Blast Kills Detroit Woman, 36

DETROIT—(AP)—Mrs. Martha Koronke, 36, whose flaming clothes served as a torch to set fire to her home, died of first degree burns yesterday.

Mrs. Koronke was firing a basement furnace with kerosene when the can exploded, spraying her with blazing fluid.

She ran screaming up the basement stairs and through the house, setting fire to curtains, draperies, beds and rugs.

She collapsed and was found by a neighbor who broke in the back door. She died later at a hospital.

Eighth army headquarters said 2,000 Red troops swooped down from the hills and slaughtered between 1,000 and 2,000 Korean civilians at Wonju, 55 miles south-east of Seoul.

Also slain there were five American officers attached to a South Korean army command post which the Reds overran.

Wouldn't Pick Lewis For Dogcatcher, Says President Truman

DENVER—(AP)—"I wouldn't appoint John L. Lewis dog catcher," President Truman wrote Colorado State Senator Neal Bishop a year and a half ago.

Bishop, a Democrat, disclosed yesterday the President's reply to his joking suggestion that the United Mine Workers chief be appointed ambassador to Russia.

Bishop said he didn't make the letter public in May, 1949, when he received it because of a threatened coal strike.

He wrote that Lewis would make a good ambassador because he "has a more formidable appearance than Stalin; roars 'no' louder than Gromyko; hurls more choice invectives and quotations from the classics in his oratory than Vishinsky; out-negotiates Molotov at the conference table—as any mine operator will testify—and Lewis would be in Moscow."

Mr. Truman replied that he already had appointed a "good man" to the post, but appreciated the "good humor" of the suggestion.

"For your information, I wouldn't appoint John L. Lewis dog catcher," the President added.

There was no comment from Lewis.

Legislature Attacked By Gov. Williams For Its False Economy

GRAND RAPIDS—(AP)—Governor Williams yesterday urged the voters at the Nov. 7 election to approve a $65,000,000 proposed state bond issue for the construction of mental hospitals.

He coupled that with a new attack on the Republican-controlled legislature for what he said was its "neglect, procrastination, confusion and false economy" in solving the mounting tide of mental health problems.

Reciting effects of the G. O. P. lawmakers' economies on the mentally ill, Williams said "it cut the budget of the sex deviates."

Telephone Tattlers, Two Young Children, Trapped In Lansing

LANSING—(AP)—Two young telephone tattlers, who for months had spread mental misery and domestic strife here, today were known to Lansing police.

The two, a 12-year-old girl and her 13-year-old brother "had fun" calling numbers at random from the telephone directory. They reported accidents or marital infidelity.

They were nabbed through a "million to one chance" by Lansing Police Sgt. Herbert Mc Court and Policewoman Marcie Trantam. The names have not been disclosed, nor has it been decided what action will be taken against them.

The girl, Sgt. Mc Court said, called his home Monday night. She represented herself as being in Illinois, and told Mrs. Mc Court that a young man, carrying the Mc Court's telephone number, had been injured near Mattoon.

Mrs. Mc Court, thinking it might be her brother, dropped the phone, and Mc Court took over, identifying himself. At this point, some one on the girl's party line picked up a receiver and listened as the girl related the gruesome injuries to the young man.

Mrs. Mc Court immediately called her parent's home in Jackson and learned that her brother was safe. Then the person on the party line, who had heard Mc Court's name and realized that something was amiss, called them back, giving his number.

With that to work on, the telephone company was able to localize the caller. Company officials said they also had been asked to trace several other "Illinois" calls, on traffic mishaps, during the previous week.

The girl told police that she had been making the calls for about three months.

Some victims of the hoax even made long trips to visit the injured persons, officers said. One woman is known to have become very distraught at learning that her son had been "killed" near Clare. Ambulances and fire equipment also were sent out on such calls.

The brother, the girl said, would call women and report that their husbands were "stepping out" with other women. The 13-year-old would give details of the dress of the other woman, and the color of her hair.

The calls, Sgt. Mc Court said, all were made in an affected southern drawl, since some persons at first recognized the voice as that of a child. The boy at other times, the girl said, would use "obscene" language on the phone, or attempt to "date up" the woman at the other end.

The two children live with their father and grandmother. The calls were made at times when the older people were out.

study commission from $36,500 to $15,000. We could afford $50,000 for two new elevators to haul legislators from the basement of the capitol to the House and Senate chambers, but we could not afford $36,000 for the protection of our women and children."

Father Of Singing Crosby Boys Dead

NORTH HOLLYWOOD, Calif.—(AP)—Harry Lowe Crosby, 79, affectionately called "Pop" by Bing and the boys, is dead.

The crooner's father died at his home of a heart ailment yesterday. Bing reached him shortly before the end came, speeding to the bedside from his home at Pebble Beach, Calif.

Because of the death, the Bing Crosby recorded radio program was canceled last night. The singer said he did not want his voice on the air on the same day his father died.

Grateful Spouse

Thanks Prosecutor

VICTORIA, B. C.—(7)—Prosecutors don't often get thanks, especially from the wives of the men prosecuted. But one woman was grateful for her husband being called to court and ordered to pay hospital insurance premiums. Her husband now is in a hospital and if the action hadn't been taken "we'd be faced with hospital bills we couldn't afford," she said.

If your discomforts are due to these causes, don't wait, try Doan's Pills, a mild diuretic. Used successfully by millions for over 50 years. Customers' Corner

Packing your order may sound like a little thing, but our trained employees give it a lot of thought.

They know that it isn't right to place five pounds of flour on top of a quarter pound of butter . . . or to place soap next to cheese.

The men and women of A&P will appreciate it if you will let them have any suggestions as to how they can make a handier package for you to take home. Please write:

Special Prayer
Service Planned

The beautiful chapel at St. Francis hospital will be opened Friday night for a special prayer and adoration service to be conducted from 8 p. m., Friday to 8 a. m., Saturday.

Escanaba priests and Rev. Fr. C. Franzczek, hospital chaplain, will be in charge of services.

Judith Derouin,
Gilbert Guindon
Exchange Vows

Judith Ann Derouin, daughter of Mrs. Aime Derouin of Route Two, Bark River, and Gilbert Joseph Guindon, of Schaffer, exchanged marriage vows in a ceremony Saturday in Sacred Heart church at Schaffer.

Rev. Fr. Joseph Beauchene officiated at the 9 a. m. mass and music was sung by the church choir with Mrs. Blanche Seymour as organist. The church altars were decorated with bouquets of gladioli for the double-ring service.

The bride wore a white gown with satin bodice and French organza skirt which extended to a long train. Her fingertip veil was edged with lace and caught to a heart-shaped crown of seed pearls. A bouquet of white mums and gladioli and a pearl necklace, a gift of the bridegroom, completed the bride's attire.

Her maid of honor, Miss Marie Guenette, wore a yellow taffeta gown with net overskirt and a matching fingertip veil; and the bridesmaid Miss Shirley Derouin, the bride's sister, wore a blue taffeta gown and fingertip veil. They wore contrasting bouquets of blue and yellow mums.

The bride's mother selected a cocoa crepe dress with brown accessories and wore a corsage of red roses.

After the ceremony a wedding dinner was served at Potvin's Fireside room and a reception for 200 was held at Riverview pavilion.

The couple will live in Milwaukee where the bridegroom is employed.

Out-of-town guests included Lenas Guyon of Chicago, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Derouin and Mrs. Mielke of Oak Lawn, Ill., James Michel and Mr. and Mrs. Wally Nault of Milwaukee. Also attending the wedding were the bride's two grandmothers and two grandfathers, Mr. and Mrs. Mose Derouin and Mr. and Mrs. Joseph LeVesque.

A little chopped green onion is delicious added to an omelet or to scrambled eggs—good, too, with cottage cheese.

Mother Gets Her
Swimming Pool

ATLANTA—(AP)—Like many of the rest of us, Mrs. Lewis Higgins wanted a swimming pool in her back yard. And, like many of us, she didn't have much money. But Mrs. Higgins has her pool. It cost $15.

The pool is 15 by 7 feet and of wading depth for the use of her children. The $15 went for sand and cement and for waterproof paint. She used discarded lumber for forms and discarded pipe for a drain. The work she did herself, with some help from her husband.

Today's Recipes

Two additional recipes for crab apples have been submitted in response to the recent request in the Escanaba Daily Press.

One of them, submitted by Ruth Lehmann of Escanaba, is as follows:

Pickled Crab Apples

1 peck crab apples
2½ pounds sugar
1 quart vinegar
¼ cup whole cloves
5 sticks cinnamon
Wash apples and remove blossom ends. Mix sugar and vinegar and add spices, loosely tied in a cloth bag, and heat to a boiling point. Then cool slightly, add the apples and again heat, very slowly to avoid bursting skins. Cook slowly or simmer until the apples are tender. Then pack the apples into sterilized jars, and pour the boiling vinegar and sugar mixture over the apples until the jars are filled. Seal and store. This makes 10 pints.

Another recipe for pickled crab apples, submitted by a Garden reader, is:

1 peck or eight quarts of apples
6 sticks cinnamon
1 cup whole cloves
1 quart vinegar
2½ lbs. sugar.

Select apples of uniform size, wash, and remove blossom ends, but do not peel. Tie spices loosely in a cheesecloth bag. Mix vinegar and sugar, add spices and heat to a boiling point. Add apples and reheat mixture slowly and simmer until apples are tender. Pack apples into jars, pour over vinegar and sugar mixture and seal.

A Daily Press reader requests a recipe for homemade egg noodles. Any one having this recipe is asked to send it to the Recipe Department, Escanaba Daily Press.

Will Seek To Launch Hospital Auxiliary Here

Launching of an actively functioning Women's Auxiliary for the Schoolcraft Memorial Hospital will be the objective of a meeting to be held at the court room of the court house in Manistique on the evening of Wednesday, Oct. 11 at eight o'clock. Announcement to this effect is made by Mrs. Leon Nicholson, chairman of the tentative organization. Mrs. Russell Watson is vice chairman.

The need for an active organization of this sort is explained by Mrs. Nicholson as an effort in which all women of Manistique and Schoolcraft county should be proud to participate.

The Schoolcraft Memorial Hospital, says Mrs. Nicholson, is one of the best and most modernly equipped hospitals in Upper Michigan, but there are many items of services which women of this area can provide to help the hospital function even more efficiently. There are sewing and mending projects, visiting, matters of finance, provision of surgical supplies such as bandages and dressings, flowers, library service, reading to and writing

Students To Hear Marine Band

Members of the Manistique High school band will be guests of Manistique businessmen and other friends at the concert to be given by the United States Marine Band at Escanaba Friday evening.

The band members will be taken to Escanaba by school bus and the expense of attending will be defrayed by a fund raised by popular subscription.

Some time ago, a subscription was taken locally among places of business to send members of the football squad to East Lansing to attend a Michigan State College game. Sentiment recently was expressed to the effect that the band, which has, through the years backed the team in all of its games, should also get consideration.

The idea proved to be popular and the support given was generous.

Joseph Giovannini, band instructor, expressed great satisfaction over the appreciation shown for the efforts of the young people under his direction and expressed confidence that the inspiration the young people will get from the concert will have noticeable effect on their playing and their ambitions.

Married Monday In Ceremony At Catholic Church

Miss Pauline Kokesch, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles McGreggor of Gulliver, became the bride of William M. Chartier, son of Mrs. Eva Chartier, Monday at 11 a. m. in a ceremony performed at the St. Francis de Sales church by the Rev. F. J. M. Scherier.

The brides gown was of off white satin with an illusion neckline, light fitting bodice, long tapered sleeves, and a full skirt ending in a court train. The finger-veil, edged with white satin and with a cut-work head-dress fell in soft folds. She carried a bouquet of roses on a heart shaped pillow trimmed with lace.

Mrs. Bernard Poupore, who is the groom's sister, wore a gown of aqua net over taffeta. It had a lace bodice and a matching cap. She carried a muff of mixed flowers. Miss Delores Mickelson, cousin of the bride, who was the bridesmaid, wore a gown similar to that of Mrs. Poupore's in pink.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. McGreggor chose a navy blue dress and she had a corsage of mixed flowers and roses. Mrs. Chartier wore a pink and black print and also had mixed flowers and roses.

Leonard Martin, cousin of the groom, served as best man and ushering the guests to their places were Albert Kokesch, Cletus Chartier and Lewellyn Chartier.

The wedding dinner was served to 75 guests at the groom's home. The reception was held at the K. of C. hall for 450 guests. Pink and white formed the decorative theme for the reception and the wedding cake centered the table topped with a miniature bridal couple.

For the honeymoon trip Mrs. Chartier chose a green gabardine suit with brown accessories and a corsage of roses and mixed flowers. Upon return from South Bend, Ind. the couple will make their home at 121 1/2 S. First st.

The bride attended local schools and Marquette School of Nursing. She is now employed at the Schoolcraft Memorial hospital. The groom also attended local schools and is now employed at the Inland Lime and Stone Co.

Beaten 1-0; Phils Pin Hopes On Robin Roberts

PHILADELPHIA — (AP)—Robin Roberts must stop the New York Yankees today—or else. That was the opinion at world series headquarters as the Phils' 20-game winner was assigned to meet Allie Reynolds (16-12) in the second game.

Manager Eddie Sawyer lost his daring gamble on Jim Konstanty in yesterday's 1-0 opener. But not before his relief ace turned in a pitching job that long will be remembered. Vic Raschi simply threw too hard for the dazed National league champs despite Konstanty's heart-tugging effort.

Now it's up to Roberts, wonder boy of Sunday's pennant clincher. Well rested after his strenuous chore against Brooklyn, the former Michigan State college ace must win or the 1950 series may not come back to Philadelphia.

After today's game, the clubs move to New York's Yankee stadium for the next three—if five needed. Only if a sixth or seventh is played will they return to Shibe park next week.

"Pretty Tough"

Few fans want to wager that the Phils will win two games after watching Raschi handcuff them with two singles in the opener.

Raschi's brilliant job couldn't dim the near-miracle of Konstanty. The 33-year-old bullpen veteran, who hadn't started a game since 1948, deserved a better fate. He allowed only four hits in eight innings before giving way to a pinch hitter. It took two fly balls to convert one of the hits into the only run of the game.

"I don't mind losing on base hits," Konstanty said. "But when a couple of fly balls beat you, it's pretty tough."

The base hit—a double down the left field line by Bobby Brown in the fourth inning—was the only extra-base off Konstanty. Jim said it was a "slider at least a half foot inside."

Whiffs Goliat

The big Phil chance came in the fifth when they collected both of their hits. Raschi retired 13 men in order until Willie Jones singled into centerfield with one out in the fifth. After Gran Hamner flied out, Andy Seminick laced a single to left, then Raschi bore down to strike out Mike Goliat.

BOBBY BROWN

VIC RASCHI

Raschi walked Eddie Waitkus, his only pass of the game, with one out in the sixth and proceeded to mow down the next 11 men in succession.

It looked as though Sawyer might have made a mistake in the first inning when Konstanty walked Yankee leadoff man Gene Woodling and Phil Rizzuto singled. Feeling at ease with men on base, bespectacled Jim set down the next three.

Mize Popped Out

In the third, Raschi's single, a walk and a sacrifice put men on second and third with one out. Konstanty got Yogi Berra on a short fly, walked Joe DiMaggio intentionally and made Mize pop one of his "palm balls" to the third baseman.

Brown's double down the left field line opening the fourth was the decisive blow of the game. Hank Bauer's long fly that Ashburn caught over his head in deep center edged Brown to third. Jerry Coleman's drive that Dick Sisler caught near the left field seats was plenty long for Brown to score unmolested.

The Yanks, hit only two more balls out of the infield off Konstanty. One was Woodling's single to center in the seventh. The other was a loud out. Russ Meyer, pitching the ninth, gave up the fifth and last Yankee hit.

Raschi Wins But Loses To Thief

PHILADELPHIA — (AP)—Vic Raschi was a 1-0 winner in the opening world series game, but a loser to a thief.

Raschi's hotel room was looted yesterday while the New York Yankee ace was pitching his two-hit shutout against the Philadelphia Phillies.

Two suitcases containing 140 series tickets, jewelry and a diamond-studded watch were taken from Raschi's room. Detective Lt. Frank A. May reported.

Raschi said he bought the tickets for friends and relatives.

Stolen also was a black leather suitcase belonging to Raschi's wife, Sally, in which she said she had the watch, a new blouse and "between $500 and $1,000" worth of jewelry. The watch bore the inscription "New York Yankees — world champions, 1949."

Spilling The Dope

By Charlie Larson

Wally Marenger of Cornell and Tim Elmer of Iron Mountain are members of the St. Norbert college freshman football team coached by John Biolo.

Jack Finn's Dansville high school football team "got took" last Friday night by Holt, 18-0. Holt is a larger school.

Harry Monson's Iron River team plays the "U. P. Game of the Week" Saturday night. It meets its crosstown rival, Stambaugh. Both teams are undefeated, high-scoring outfits and the winner undoubtedly will be the Upper Peninsula champs.

A friend asks if we have noticed the heavy influx of state-owned cars from lower Michigan this week? Yes, we had. We forgot that the bird hunting season had opened. Strange, isn't it, how the Lansing boys are able to find work in the Upper Peninsula when the bird, deer and fishing seasons open?

A $16,000 ski slide will be erected by the state at the Porcupine Mountain State park. That ought to be something.

Jim Trethewey of the Marquette Mining Journal says the "most notable football duels alteration this year is abolition of the fair catch." Jim fails to point out that Michigan high schools have not abolished the fair catch. This year, a player making a fair catch must have his arm clearly to indicate his intention of not running with the ball after he catches it.

We understand at least one Marquette county football official is being turned in to the State high school athletic official for swearing at the players. There's no place in high school officiating for a referee who does that. He ought to be barred from the game.

Can't Recall Better Pitched Game: Dean

PHILADELPHIA — (AP) — Dressing rooms of the New York Yankees and the Philadelphia Phillies after the first world series game reflected this much clearly:

1—Both teams were still emotionally spent from the hot pennant races.

2—Neither team is yet fully fired up with eagerness to become world champions — that comes in a day or two.

3—Above all, the Yankees, old professional campaigners, take victory as a matter of course.

Both dressing rooms were placid after the brilliant pitching duel in which Vic Raschi of the Yankees bested Jim Konstanty of the Phillies 1-0.

The Yankees looked at each other in silence. The Phillies accepted defeat more calmly than might be expected.

"Don't think there is anything to enthuse about except for Raschi's pitching. That was all," said the Yankees Phil Rizzuto.

Said Dick Sisler, Phillies batting hero:

"Raschi had good control. He gave me nothing good to hit at. Brother, I was really reaching for them. He had my number." Said Dizzy Dean, onetime St.

Louis Cardinal great:

"Can't remember when I ever saw a better world series game pitched, even by myself."

The Yankees stood in respect of Konstanty.

"Like I told 'em beforehand," said Stengel. "A guy can't pitch in 74 games and not have something. Why that fellow threw us every kind of a pitch. He gave us a lot of trouble."

Stengel had his batters move towards the front of the box on the theory that Konstanty's pitches don't break until they cross the plate. This did not produce much, but one run proved to be enough.

Raschi, much paler than most of the ball players, was dripping sweat at the end despite the chilly day.

"Tough? Sure it was tough," he said. "They're all tough."

Norway Tough, Trojans Warned

St. Joseph's football foe next Saturday—Norway—is a paradox this year.

It is a strong team with a poor won-lost record.

The Vikings of Coach Allan Ronberg have lost four ball games and won only one.

But look at the opposition. They lost to Iron River (26-0) and Stambaugh (19-0), two of the top rated teams in the Upper Peninsula, and to Escanaba (6-0), certainly no pushover.

Their only victory was a 13-7 over a tough Crystal Falls outfit that since has won four games in a row.

Ronberg has scouted St. Joe and knows what to expect.

"We know we are in for a tough time," said Coach Tom St. Germain.

"With our limited manpower, we can't do much heavy scrimmaging in practice."

"We came out of the Lourdes game without serious injury to our key players—which is fortunate. If our boys are clicking, we'll make it an interesting ball game. But Norway is always tough—especially on its home field."

"Old Pete" To See Phillies In Series

OMAHA — (AP)—Grover Cleveland Alexander, almost legendary pitcher of a generation ago, was on his way to the world series today.

"Old Pete" had hoped to be on hand when the Phils began their 1950 series campaign against the Yankees yesterday. But arrangements to get him there fell through, and so he had to get a second-hand report of the game from friends in his home town of St. Paul, Neb. Ailing and partly deaf, Alexander has difficulty listening to the radio.

Last night a St. Paul friend, Quent Lynch, reported he had found some help in Chicago and that the trip would be possible after all.

Lou Boudreau Seems Headed For Chisox

PHILADELPHIA — (AP)—Is Lou Boudreau, popular manager of the Cleveland Indians, Chicago-bound at last?

The question, first broached a year ago when Bill Veeck came close to trading Boudreau to the White Sox, and revived again last June when Lou again was offered to the same club, may be answered within the next two weeks.

The Sox will be without a manager after next week when the board of directors meets in Chicago and official hands John (Red) Corriden his release. They already have decided to replace the 63-year-old Corriden, who took over the reins in mid-season.

That move will pave for one of two men under consideration to get the job. Top priority will go to Boudreau, if available. The other candidate held in high esteem is Paul Richards, current manager of the Seattle Rainiers in the Pacific coast league and former Detroit Tiger.

The Indians insist that Boudreau's contract, which expired at the end of the season, will be discussed in due time. They say no thought has been given to hiring or firing the clever ex-collegian from Illinois.

The White Sox hold Boudreau's managerial capabilities in high regard and would not be averse to having him as manager. The catch is this. They are not willing to give anything for him, either by way of players or money.

The Sox feel Lou's trade value is nil since they believe he has no desire to play any more. They are willing to accept him as a bench manager, with an occasional emergency fill-in fling, on the premise that Boudreau's presence in a White Sox uniform would help boost the attendance. The good-looking, black-haired former star shortstop makes his home in Harvey, Ill., a stone's throw from Chicago.

That test could be provided by the Maryland backfield that includes two stellar halfbacks, Ed "Mighty Mo" Modzelewski and Bob "Shoo Shoo" Shemonski.

Bob Williams Rated Top Back Prospect

SOUTH BEND — (AP)—Bob Williams, Notre Dame's brilliant quarterback, does a lot of Rapid-fire thinking on the football field along with his expert passing and punting.

The 20-year-old Baltimore senior's quick diagnosis of enemy defenses enabled him to bring his Irish mates 46 yards in the waning minutes of the North Carolina game with three forward passes and an all-important one yard sneak for a first down which contributed to his team's 14-7 triumph.

Williams won the top spot in a pre-season Associated Press poll to determine who will be the outstanding backfield man in college football this fall. In these days of platoon football his selection appears to be quite an honor. Besides being a T quarterback, he also is a standout defensive player, and late in the North Carolina game he operated at defensive right half.

"I wouldn't trade Williams for any other college quarterback in America," says Notre Dame coach Frank Leahy. The Irish head man says Williams' playing against Michigan State last year, when Notre Dame won 34-21, was a "practically perfect performance for one game."

Williams' third pass in last week's final 46-yard payoff drive was to end Jim Mutscheller for 26 yards. He threw 27 passes in the game and completed 14 for 123 yards, and both scores came on Williams to Mutscheller aerials.

In his collegiate career Williams has now thrown 182 passes and completed 117 for 1,612 yards. Last year, he broke the single season passing marks of the other star Notre Dame quarterbacks of the T era—Johnny Lujack and Angelo Bertelli.

Maryland's Ground Game Bothers MSC

EAST LANSING — (AP)—If we can stop Maryland on the ground, we can stop Maryland.

That, apparently, is the theory Michigan State college football Coach Biggie Munn is working on in preparing for his critical game with the Old Liners this week.

He closed out his heavy practice for the big game yesterday with a serious workout of his defensive platoon, emphasizing Maryland ground plays.

The aerial arm, of course, was not disregarded, but Munn apparently felt that the ground defenses will have to face a major test.

That test could be provided by the Maryland backfield that includes two stellar halfbacks, Ed "Mighty Mo" Modzelewski and Bob "Shoo Shoo" Shemonski.

Nobel Prize To Bunche Should Silence Robeson

By ROBERT C. RUARK
NEW YORK—It is rather pleasing to reflect that Mr. Paul Robeson, the Negro press agent for the Communist party, has finally been hanged high as Haman, ideologically, by a fine gentleman of his own race. This would be Dr. Ralph Bunche, who was recently awarded the Nobel peace prize, thereby upsetting Mr. Robeson's entire propaganda career and nullifying his future value to the Kremlin.

Although he is a Phi Beta Kappa, recent owner of a huge house, dwells in an exclusive white community, a former All-American, brilliant singer, honored actor and a wealthy man, Mr. Robeson early nominated himself as spokesman for the American Negro, especially for the benefit of the Kremlin.

Nevertheless, Robeson educated his son in Switzerland and Russia, and once made a joking remark as reported by the late Alexander Woollcott, in a friendly profile of Robeson, accusing his wife of penury because of her racial antecedents on the white side. He enjoined her to "be all nigger and give me the two bucks"—a remark that would be outrageously unforgivable on any lips today—he has persisted in speaking for his race in America. This has never greatly delighted the National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People.

PAUL ROBESON

As my friend Walter White might tell you.

A Great Honor
Robeson's presentation of his race's plight in America has been roughly divided between lynching and mass persecution. He has never dwelt on the fact that the greatest mass depression of the Negro exists in Harlem, a black ghetto run by his friend and political ally, Vito Marcantonio, a Goebblish little man who shrieks almost epileptically at Communist rallies. And who runs virtual slave galleys, airborne, from Puerto Rico, to keep his votes high.

The Nobel peace prize is, I believe, the highest international honor to be bestowed on either man or organization. Dr. Bunche, the grandson of a black slave, just won it, thereby heaping great honor on his nation, which was more than proud of his work in the settlement of the Israeli-Arab war.

I do not see how anything Mr. Robeson might say in future concerning the plight of the Negro in America can have a great deal of weight, even in a Russian mind, which is capable of reversing the pull of gravity and may possibly deny the existence of the Nobel prize.

All Have Opportunity
Dr. Bunche is a Negro, a few short generations away from slavery and before that, the jungle. He demonstrates, on the record, that a man of his color does not have to affix himself to the Communist party to gain success in his own homeland. Dr. Bunche is a Phi Beta, too, and a Ph. D., too, and an honored man on his own time and effort.

Dr. Bunche demonstrates strikingly that an American, no matter what his color, still has an unlimited ceiling for achievement. His existence makes a liar of Robeson and all the other race-screamers who portray the Negro as Eliza still being bayed across the ice packs. Nor can anyone, by the wildest stretch, accuse the proud and honored Dr. Bunche of that favorite epithet "Uncle Tomism" because of his association with and accomplishments among his fellow citizens.

The Daily Worker, the Communist organ that occasionally honors me with a bitter denunciation for my antipathy to Mr. Robeson, accuses me of fomenting race hatred every time I take a cuff at the backslid Emperor Jones.

It will be curious indeed to note that rag's reaction to this one, in which I seem to stand four-square in favor of the Negro race as fellow Americans and pronounce my pride in being a countryman of Dr. Ralph Bunche, a Negro. It is odd indeed that a "fomentor of race hatred" is filled with pride over the exploits of the Negro soldiers in Korea—men who, Mr. Robeson once ringingly proclaimed, would not fight for their coun-

Amputee-Paraplegic Show Troupe Starts 30-Week Tour Oct. 15

LOS ANGELES—(AP)—A show troupe of World War II veterans made up of men who are paralyzed from the waist down or have lost arms or legs will start a nationwide 30-week tour Oct. 15.

The paraplegics and amputees, who started in show business as a rehabilitation project at Birmingham hospital, Van Nuys, Calif., 15 months ago, already have appeared in two movies, "The Men," try if the Communists came to call.

All this I think while continuing to regard Paul Robeson, Negro as a nauseously treasonous disgrace to a land that gave him fame and fortune, plus the freedom of speech to denounce it for its kind-and "On Stage Everybody."

There is a cast of 60 for the show. The Hollywood movie colony helped out by providing directors, costumes and show girls. The itinerary includes Phoenix, Ariz., Dallas, New Orleans, Louisville, St. Louis, Chicago, Detroit, Cleveland, New York, Washington and Ottawa and Toronto in Canada.
